

Live in Edinburgh? This is your chance to raise concerns about the future.

In November, the G20 (the world's most powerful politicians) will gather in St. Andrews. Edinburgh MP Alistair Darling will lead the meetings. This is a huge opportunity for us to stand up for our communities - from Scotland to Somalia - which are hardest hit by the current bailed-out business-as-usual. It is time to make your voice heard... The G20 must Put People First and:

- ★ Invest heavily in green jobs and in public services for all
- ★ Reform global institutions to make global economics fair
- ★ Protect the planet from rich country-led climate change

Don't leave it to others to get involved. Have your say on Friday 16th October.

Speakers: Mike Kirby (UNISON), Ewan Aitken (Church of Scotland), Juliet Swann (Friends of the Earth Scotland)... and YOU.

We'd love to hear if you are coming. Email us: simon@wdmscotland.org.uk
